SS21 COLLECTION

At the close of another winter we are getting ready for a long season of cycling in mild and pleasant weather. You might be commuting in the brisk air of a spring morning, taking the long route home on lengthening summer evenings, getting ready for your very first spin on a proper road bike, or braving the rain while training for an exceptional Gran Fondo race. In all cases we offer the relevant equipment to cyclists at any level, with a variety of wants and needs.

This of course places very specific demands on both cyclists and their kit. Functional gear with practical features, designed to work flawlessly on the bike and enabling you to ride throughout the changing seasons is what we aspire for. And because we would never compromise on the looks or quality of our collections, the entire range is put through extensive testing by our dedicated team of avid riders, right here in the Netherlands and by the riders of Team Jumbo-Visma in all kinds of extreme conditions.

For 2021, we have continued to further develop our collection by innovating wherever possible. More and more products make use of our recycled and eco-friendly Greensphere materials, thereby contributing to a cleaner production process. Our High Summer kits have been updated to keep you comfortable in the heat, specific gravel-riding and MTB bibshorts are available to answer the rigorous demands of the trails, and we forged the fastest AGU road- and aero helmets yet. Of course we also continue to enrich our collections with Grand Tour-proven trickle-down technology, as is the case with the eyewear we developed for WorldTour Team Jumbo-Visma; from the professionals straight to you. Finally, as we have seen cyclists' safety become an ever more relevant as well as precarious issue, we took great care to ensure plenty of Hi-vis and reflective elements in our garments to increase visibility on the road.

Thus, any rider can be assured of using the best materials and designs available according to their specific needs and wishes. Let the summer begin.

A jacket which is easy to carry and protects you against wind and rain showers. That is the AGU women Storm Breaker.
